◆ ETOWAH RECEIVES MAJOR SCHOOL GRANT

Etowah has been awarded a Safe Routes to Schools grant worth $89,591. The money will be used for sidewalk construction, crosswalks and signs at Etowah and Mountain Views schools. The grant was announced Monday by Governor Bill Haslam and TDOT Commissioner John Schroer. The money also will be used to provide safety programs and activities encouraging walking and biking. The grant is made through a federally funded program that is administered by the Tennessee Department of Transportation.

◆ CAREER OPEN HOUSE PLANNED NOV. 15TH

A day long project which includes the senior classes at both McMinn Central and McMinn County High Schools will be held on November 15th. All seniors will have a chance to meet with industries to learn about technology needs, training required, wages and salaries that can be expected, etc. The focus of the initiative is to fill high tech jobs in our area and help students prepare for the opportunities available, even if they do not plan to attend college. The open house will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and is being coordinated by Stewart Smith with the Tennessee Technology Center of Athens.

NATIONAL & WORLD NEWS

◆ As superstorm Sandy steamed inland, still delivering punishing wind and rain, millions of people from Maine to the Carolinas awoke Tuesday without electricity, and an eerily quiet New York City was all but closed off by car, train and air. The death toll has climbed to 40. Many of the victims were killed by falling trees.

◆ Christine Schleppey, 34, of New Jersey, gave birth to a baby boy in a hospital's make-shift medical shelter aiding residents immobilized by flooding. She was only 35 weeks into her pregnancy when she started having contractions on Monday near the height of Hurricane Sandy.

◆ The White House said President Obama scrapped plans to campaign Wednesday in the pivotal battleground state of Ohio and will stay in Washington, D.C., to monitor the federal government's response to superstorm Sandy. The President got an update on Hurricane Sandy via teleconference in the White House's Situation Room.

◆ Mitt Romney held a "storm relief event" at a local athletic complex in Kettering, Ohio on Tuesday. This was originally scheduled to be a victory rally, but was cancelled out of respect for those affected by the storm. Romney's speech favored remarks about those "suffering" and "hurting" in the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy.
