National and World News

- ◆ British Prime Minister Liz Truss has resigned after 44 days in office amid political and economic chaos, but will remain in the position until a successor is named.
- ◆ The motive remains unknown for the mass shooting along a Raleigh, North Carolina, nature trail that killed five people and injured two others. The suspect is 15-year-old Austin Thompson, who was critically injured in the shooting on October 13th. It is unknown if the suspect was shot by officers or himself. The suspect's 16-year-old brother, James Thompson, was among those killed. James Thompson was shot before the other victims, according to Raleigh police and was found in a house with a gunshot wound and stab wounds, police said. One of the victims who was shot in a driveway, remains in the hospital in critical but stable condition. The police department said that it's "limited in how much information" it can release "due to both the suspect's age and the ongoing criminal investigation."
