Missing Person's Remains Found

◆ A missing girl's remains were found Sunday in a remote location in Monroe County, according to Sheriff Tommy Jones. 24-year-old Chelsie Walker, of Madisonville, was reported missing to the Madisonville Police Department on October 31. She was last seen at Madisonville Wal-mart. The Madisonville Police began investigating and later found evidence that she was last seen in Tellico Plains. Madisonville Detectives shared their evidence with the Monroe County Sheriff's Office and both agencies launched a joint investigation into her disappearance. They found Walker's remains on Sunday in Monroe County. Two suspects are currently in custody and charges will be announced soon. The investigation is continuing.

State and Area News

- ◆ A Cleveland man died in a car accident on I-75 in Bradley County Monday afternoon, according to the Tennessee Highway Patrol. 79-year-old Hurley Upton was driving south near mile-marker 34.5 when his pickup truck left the roadway and hit a tree just before 2 p.m. The truck was the only vehicle involved. The THP said he was not wearing a seatbelt.
- ◆ The Oak Ridge National Laboratory will receive almost a half billion dollars for science and energy research. The lab announced recently that it would receive $497 million. The bulk of the funding at Oak Ridge - $256 million - will go to a fusion energy research project managed by the Department of Energy's Office of Science. A new Stable Isotope Production and Research Center will receive approximately $75 million for medical, industrial, and national security research.

TODAY IN HISTORY - NOVEMBER 10th

1911 - The Carnegie Corporation of New York was established "to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding." It was the first of the great U.S. foundations for scholarly and charitable works.

1928 - It was on this day, after Knute Rockne delivered his 'Win One for the Gipper' halftime speech to the Irish players, that Notre Dame upset Army, 12-6. Rockne's speech: "The day before he died, George Gipp asked me to wait until the situation seemed hopeless, then ask a Notre Dame team to go out and beat Army for him. This is the day, and you are the team."

Each vote cast was an outward, tangible expression of care for our community. Thanks to each person who voted!

Kay Simmons,
Athens City Council
Candidate
2022

To all Athenians,

I have always believed it is the responsibility of every citizen to participate in their own government. That is one of the great things and rights about our system.

For the last six years, I have done my part to hold our local government accountable by speaking out on the important issues, such as, doing public records requests and addressing our council. Unfortunately, it has recently become clear our local government was not working. That is why I made the decision to run for city council.

The voters this week made it clear they want change in Athens and I want all of them to know they can count on me to carry through the promises I have made. We have a great deal of work ahead of us as Athenians. There are wounds to heal, wrongs to be righted and systems to be changed. I will stand up for all of our citizens and I hope that all citizens will keep the new council in each one of your prayers as we begin to embark on the task that is at hand.

God Bless each one and Thank You for your support & vote!

Larry Eaton
